

The Jungian Society for Scholarly Studies VIIIth Annual Conference

August 7th-10th 2008 Champlain College Burlington Vt

Making the Darkness Conscious:

A Jungian Exploration of Psyche, Soma and the Natural World
In an Age of Crisis.

The Full Conference Registration Fee covers the entire conference and includes all meals and refreshment breaks during the conference except for Saturday night which is "on your own." It also includes the Keynote reception, dinner and address on Friday evening. The Full Registration fee includes membership in the society as well.

The Partial Conference Registration Fee covers scheduled meals and refreshment breaks during the session for which one has registered. Friday evening's Keynote reception, dinner and address is an additional fee.

Housing is available for an additional fee at the contemporary apartment-style residence of Champlain College's Main St. Suites, located within an easy two block stroll from the conference facility. The suites consist of four air-conditioned, single-occupancy bedrooms located around a common living/dining area, w/kitchenette, and one full bathroom. All linen is provided and beds will be made prior to arrival. On-site parking is included. Housing is limited so please reserve your room early. Please contact the Conference Co- Coordinator for rates (contact info. below)

TJSSS has applied for CEUs for the clinical papers and workshops.
